

Coldstream Village Committee Meeting Minutes for 10/6/09

Committee Members present: Lisa Martinis and Pat Veon

The meeting started at 7 p.m.

We went over the receipt for items purchased for the Coldstream Beach Party. Pat will make arrangements to reimburse Sue Digioia in the amount of $36.56. (Thanks Sue, for making this purchase for us!)

The Coldstream Book Club is going along wonderfully! There are almost 20 members now! The Club has been active for over a year now. This month, we will be reading When Ghosts Speak; Understanding the World of Earthbound Spirits by Ann Winkowski. Our meeting will include a Ghost Tour in New Market. Anyone interested in joining the book club can contact Lisa Martinis at imartinis@aol.com.

The committee decided to once again organize our annual Thanksgiving dinner for the New Market Firemen. Lisa will get this started in the beginning of November.

We also discussed the Coldstream Farmer's Market. We are concerned about trying to increase business for next year. It was noted that last year, because it was our first year of the market, emails were sent out regularly to the community to remind everyone about the market. We need to do that again next year. We also talked about expanding the market and adding a few more vendors. We have a "meat lady" who is interested in joining. And we would like to add an additional farmer. We will look into what other vendors might be interested.

It was also noted that a resident had expressed an interest in organizing a community clean-up. Lisa will email her to see if she is still interested.

The meeting was adjourned at 7:30.
